MEMBERSHIP REPORT

Not many people get to see the membership file that is maintained by me. That is mainly because there is not too many who have a need to see it. There is a wealth of information contained in the file. There is name and address, of course, which meetings you have attended, whether you are still with us or have passed on, whether your address we have is a valid one or not, etc.

There is one column that include notes to the treasurer when the dues are being processed. It contains information such as the last deposit that contained a dues payment, if you renewed for more than one year, if your dues expired with an issue of the quarterly other than the last one that was mailed out, etc. If you are a new member, it will have "NEW MEMBER" until your first renewal. Going through the records, I count 209 member records that still have "NEW MEMBER" in this column even though their status has changed from an active to an inactive member. That simply means that for some reason, when time came to renew, they made the decision not to do so. A lot of these memberships were gift memberships given by members to some of their kinfolk. As I am sure you know, not everybody on God's green earth is wrapped up in genealogy. That, I suspect, is the reason for most non-renewal of gift memberships. At one time, we made an effort to find out why someone failed to renew but it proved not to be an easy task.

There is also a column where we denote such things as bad addresses and those members who have passed away. When the AAFA learns of the passing of a member, an "X" is placed in this column and the "DOD" (Date of Death) column is populated with the date of the member's passing. Sometimes, AAFA is not made aware of the passing until several years have passed. Not only does this affect our membership records but it also means several years pass before the member is honored by inclusion in the AAFA Memorial Album and on our web page, AAFA Member Memorials: <http://www.alfordassociation.org/mem.html>. As of this year, there are 253 members who are deceased. I should say primary members because this count does not include deceased spouses. As Gil Alford is fond of saying, even passing on does not get you removed from the AAFA membership roles. You will be listed on the AAFA membership roles forever.

This column is also used to track members with invalid postal addresses. If a quarterly is returned by the post office (and all are returned that cannot be delivered generating another AAFA expense) and a good address cannot be ascertained, a "R" is placed in this column. Any future mailings will not be made to the invalid address until the "R" is removed from this column.

Please bear in mind that none of this personal data is ever released to the general public. We do not sell members' addresses nor do we give them out helter-skelter. From time to time, we get requests from individuals who have written books that they think would be of special interests to anyone named Alford and would like to send a mailing to our members advertising the book. We refuse to provide the list but we do offer to do a review of the book in the quarterly if the author will provide a copy,

That about does it until time for the next quarterly..

New Member Lineages

Because of the very short time between this issue and the previous issue there are not many new members to be reported this time.
